Back to School Tips: Setting Expectations for Activities.

As school begins, discuss with your child what extracurricular activities they would participate in. Some activities fill up quickly, so it's a good idea to sign up early to avoid disappointment. If your child needs a little extra encouragement to join an after school extracurricular, now is the time to go over the benefits of those activities. However, if your child needs to have limits set, have him/her pick their favorite activities and forgo the rest. Be realistic and don't fall victim to over-programming. Make sure to leave enough time to do homework and for family time. If interested in sending your child to PHAA, please contact the school office at (530) 885-9447.
