

Auburn Seventh-day Adventist Church
Student Tuition Assistance Program
Policy, Application Process, & Application
School Year - 2025 - 2026

GENERAL POLICY

The purpose of this policy is to provide Seventh-day Adventist Christian education to students from the Auburn Seventh-day Church that wish to attend Pine Hills Adventist Academy, who otherwise would not receive a Christian education due to financial hardship. Applications for assistance to other Seventh-day Adventist schools or other Christian schools will not be considered. (See addendum to the policy for an exception for matching grants to Seventh-day Adventist universities.)

Each family has primary responsibility for their child's education and as a church we are committed to assisting to help one another. Christian education is a commitment, from the parents, school, and church; it bears fruit for eternity.

By this we hope to communicate the value and dignity of work and the value of working together. We encourage work opportunities for all students who are of age to do so.

Thank you for caring enough about your children and their future to apply for student tuition assistance. We are here to assist and to help you. If you have questions, please contact, the senior pastor, finance committee chair, or student assistance coordinator.
